Dear Indra
Thank you for submitting your manuscript:
Use of chicken feather meal fermented with Bacillus subtilis in diets to increase the digestive enzymes activity and nutrient digestibility of silver pompano Trachinotus blochii (Lacepede, 1801)
Adelina Adelina et al.
Funders: no grant funding was stated during submission.
PLEASE NOTE: due to an increase in submissions regarding COVID-19, it may take longer for us to respond to your initial submission. Please accept our apologies, and rest assured our editorial team will be in touch as soon as possible.
WHAT WE DO NEXT
Before accepting your article: we will check content suitability, readability and manuscript format: adherence to ethical standards for the type of study; that the underlying data have been supplied (where appropriate); and that there is sufficient detail to enable others to replicate the study (if applicable).
Before publishing your article: if we accept your article, we will be in touch as soon as possible with any issues that need addressing. You will then receive a final proof of your article for approval, prior to publication.
WHAT YOU NEED TO DO NEXT
Before doing anything else, we need you to suggest at least 5 suitable reviewers to peer review your manuscript following publication (in accordance with our publishing model), should it be accepted. We ask that authors do not contact reviewers directly about the peer review process. We will need your reviewer suggestions before we can publish the article so we recommend identifying them now via your Suggest Reviewers page for this article. You can also access this page via the article's record at My Research >> Submissions.
Please quote the article number 26834 in any correspondence.
Kind regards
The F1000Research Team
Press releasing articles: Please avoid promoting articles in the media until the article has passed the open peer review process. Promotion on social media is encouraged once the article has been published; please ensure the full citation is included, as this

Dear Indra,
Further to the email I sent you on 28 September, I wanted to check if you would still like to continue with your submission. I would appreciate if you could confirm receipt of this email, and respond to our outstanding comments.
Underlying data
I'm afraid the data files related to your submission do not appear to constitute the full underlying data supporting the results. As such, your article does not adhere to F1000Research's FAIR and open data policy, and we cannot continue with your submission. Please see our data guidelines for more information.
We would consider your raw data to constitute: raw enzyme activity data; raw protein, carbohydrate, lipid and chronic oxide content data; and original, unedited histopathology image files. Please deposit the full underlying data in a stable and recognised open repository and add a comprehensive data availability statement at the end of the manuscript. Please note that we cannot continue with your submission until you have provided this data. Please don't hesitate to contact us if you have any questions.
Ethics
While processing your manuscript, we noticed that you do not have a statement about ethical approval. Please provide a statement of ethics permission granted or animal licenses obtained. If ethical approval for animal use was not required, please explain why this approval was unnecessary. In all cases, a statement should be made to confirm that all efforts were made to ameliorate any suffering of animals and details of how this was achieved should be provided. Please see our policies for more information.
Reporting
Articles on F1000Research must comply with consensus-based minimum report guidelines for research. F1000Research endorses the ARRIVE guidelines for animal studies. We have noticed that your article is missing some information; please ensure that your article adheres to these guidelines and add any details that are missing. We would also ask that you provide further details of your laboratory methods including details of reagents and equipment used, stating catalogue

Dear Indra,

Many thanks for returning your revised manuscript in response to our comments.

We noticed that your methods section is still lacking some details from the ARRIVE checklist – please ensure that your article adheres to these guidelines and add any details that are missing. We would also ask that you provide further details of your laboratory methods including details of reagents and equipment used, stating catalogue numbers where appropriate.

I'm afraid that we will not be able to proceed with your manuscript until this point has been addressed.

Thank you for your submission to F1000Research. We have noted a few issues with your manuscript; we ask that these issues are addressed before we accept your article for publication. Please review our Guide to revising your manuscript, which provides advice on how to interpret and address our edits and comments.

Content: Heavy copyediting has been performed in order to increase the clarity of the article; please make sure that the meaning has been maintained. We would suggest that the article is copyedited, either by a native English speaker or a professional copyediting service to ensure that the meaning has been maintained.

Reporting: We feel that your manuscript is missing some information. Reviewers and readers must be able to verify and replicate your study from the level of detail you give. We endorse the ARRIVE guidelines for animal studies; we suggest that you ensure the article adheres to the ARRIVE checklist and add any details that are missing. The comments in the manuscript provide some queries relating to this checklist, but these are not exhaustive.

Reviewers: As you know, F1000Research operates an author-driven publication model. This means that you will be responsible for suggesting suitable reviewers, whom we invite on your behalf, giving you an opportunity to ensure that appropriate experts review your article. Our transparent peer review process means that the peer review reports, together with the reviewers' names, will be published alongside your article.

To avoid delay to the publication process, we need you to provide us with at least five potential reviewers who meet our reviewer criteria before we can publish your article - please be aware that it is likely we will need to request further reviewer suggestions after publication. Please go to your Suggest Reviewers page, where you will find a useful tool to help you find reviewers; use this page to track the progress of the peer review process for your article. You can access this page directly via the article's record under My Research >> Submissions. See also our reviewer criteria and tips for finding reviewers.

Please remember that suggested reviewers should have appropriate level of experience and the right expertise to judge your article; they must be able to provide an unbiased report (e.g. they must not be recent collaborators or colleagues in your institute). All reviewer suggestions are checked by the editorial team and will be rejected if they do not meet our criteria.

Payment: As F1000Research is open access, we will require payment of the Article Processing Charge (APC) to be able to

Dear Indra,

Many thanks for returning your revised manuscript.

There are just a couple of remaining queries relating to the ARRIVE guidelines – please see the attached manuscript for details. For all research involving animals, we also require authors to provide a statement indicating that 'all efforts were made to ameliorate harm to the animals' and describing how this was achieved.

If you have any questions, please don't hesitate to get in touch.

Dear Indra,

I'm pleased to let you know that your article: "Use of chicken feather meal fermented with Bacillus subtilis in diets to increase the digestive enzymes activity and nutrient digestibility of silver pompano Trachinotus blochii (Lacepede, 1801)" has just been published on F1000Research.

The Peer Review Process
We are now inviting the reviewers you have suggested. As part of their reports, reviewers are asked to provide a recommendation of 'Approved', 'Approved with Reservations' or 'Not Approved', and their report will be published alongside the article with their full name and affiliation. You will be able to respond to any published reports with a comment and/or by publishing revisions as a new version of your article - we will send you instructions on how to proceed when you begin to receive reports. It is important that authors do not contact the reviewers directly, as this could result in invalidating their report. Please note that we will ask you for additional reviewer suggestions if the invited reviewers decline. In order to avoid any delays with the peer review of your article, please continue to check your Suggest Reviewers page for updates and respond to any email requests as soon as you can.

Linking Your Data
Now that your article has been published and assigned a DOI (10.12688/f1000research.26834.1) we would strongly recommend that you include this DOI in the metadata of any published dataset associated with this article. If you would like assistance with this, please contact our editorial team.

Increasing Discoverability
Now that your article has been published, why not take advantage of the tools we provide to help maximize your article's reach and share your article using the Email and Share options on the article page. Your article will be listed in ePMC shortly as a preprint, and then updated once it has passed peer review.

Regards
Zena Nyakoojo
Senior Managing Editor, F1000Research

Press releasing articles: Please avoid promoting articles in the media until the article has passed the open peer review process. Promotion on social media is encouraged once the article has been published; please ensure the full citation is included, as this contains the peer review status.
